

Dune by Frank Herbert: A Masterpiece of Science Fiction

Frank Herbert's Dune is a towering achievement in the realm of science fiction. Published in 1965, the novel has sold over 20 million copies worldwide and has been translated into more than 25 languages. It has been adapted into several films, television series, and video games.

Dune is set on the desert planet of Arrakis, a harsh and unforgiving world where water is scarce and the sun beats down relentlessly. The planet is home to the Fremen, a nomadic people who have adapted to the harsh conditions. They are also the guardians of the spice melange, a valuable substance that is used to extend life and enhance mental abilities.
